

Help Wanted, Must Love Books!

by Janet Sumner Johnson

Poor Shailey! Her daddy has a new job and he is just too tired to read her bedtime stories every night and he's the best at reading stories to make her have a good sleep! What helps your child have a good sleep? As you read your child a bedtime story, ask them a few questions. "Do you like when mommy/daddy changes our voices for different characters?" "Do you like books that are short or long?" "What are your favorite books that mommy/daddy read to you?" By asking your child questions such as these, you will get a better idea of what they like about books which will help strengthen their love of books!
