

I See Summer

In this book, everywhere you look, it is summer! To help your child see summer, pick up a couple of sets of plastic sunglasses from the Dollar Store along with some stickers, play gemstones, glitter glue, and any other craft items that your child likes to work with. Help your child decorate their shades so they can see summer through different lenses every day! You can also use one set as a picture frame. Cut a piece of paper into the shape of the lens. Every couple of days, help your child draw two pictures of summer fun they have been having, and then tape them on top of the lenses. You can extend the arms of the glasses to hold them up like a picture frame, so the pictures are easily visible!
