

Lola Loves Stories

by Anna McQueen

Lola gets new books from the library every week! Each book inspires how she plays the next day! If the story is about princesses, Lola becomes a princess. If the story is about tigers, Lola chases her friends through the jungle! Books are truly the window to our imagination. Pick out a few books that you plan on reading to your child and gather the “props” you may need to help your child bring these stories to life! Maybe some clothing items for costumes. Perhaps a magic wand or a tea set. Whatever items your child may need to pretend they are doing what happened in the book. You can put each set in a basket or container so you can keep all the parts for fun pretend play based on the books you read with your child!
