

I See Spring!
by Charlies Gighna

Oh, the things you can see in the spring! Rainbows, puddles, birds, bunnies, so many new things that show winter is over! Now, go on your own hunt for spring! Take your child on a walk, and every time they point out something that shows them spring is here, take a picture with your phone or write it down. Then, when you get home, write on sheets of paper, “I see _____” and let your child help fill in the word of the show of spring they saw on your walk. Give them some crayons to draw and color pictures of all their sights on each page of their own I See Spring book!
