

Things That Go

This indestructible book identifies all types of things that go and shows your child where they travel- on land, water, or air! Along with reading the book, play “I Spy” with the pictures, as well. On each page, ask your child to point to a specific type of transportation by saying things like, “I spy with my little eye, an ambulance with a red cross on it.” Your child will find the vehicle and then receive some clues, such as colors and shapes, to help them identify other types of transportation throughout the book.
