

Who's That Swimming in the Ocean?

This is another guessing book where your child will see a small part of an ocean animal and then guess what it is! After reading this book, place small, plastic sea creatures into ice cube trays and cover each with water. Place in the freezer, then release each cube onto a tray once frozen. Give your child excavation tools- a toy hammer, a plastic mallet, a small screwdriver, a turkey baster or pipette that they can put in water and then drizzle over the cubes. As the ice gets chipped away, see if your child can guess which sea creature they are slowly discovering before all of the ice is gone!
